Golf Courses

Finca Cortesin

With over a hundred bunkers and an area measuring almost 7,000 metres from the back tees, Finca Cortesin Golf Club is one of the longest golf courses in Europe and a firm favourite for residents and regulars on the Costa del Sol. The natural environment and landscape are one of its most attractive features. But despite its length, this is a course that can accommodate every level of player.

Dona Julia Golf Club

Designed by the internationally renowned designer Antonio Garcia Garrido, Doña Julia is a picturesque 18 hole, par-71 course set within a recently built development close to Casares. The first seven holes ascend into the hills with unrivalled views of the sea, whilst the last eleven bring you back down the hill, allowing more stunning views but this time from a different angle.

Estepona Golf Club

If breathtaking views are as important to you as achieving a hole-in-one, you'll feel right at home at Estepona Golf. There are 18 holes set in the peaceful, undulating Spanish countryside all offering stunning views of the Mediterranean Sea. But as well as picturesque surroundings, a fair test can be enjoyed by players of all levels. Renowned for its superb, consistent putting surfaces.

Almenara Golf Club

Designed by Dave Thomas, the three courses, Los Lagos, Los Pinos and Los Alcornoque boast an impressive 27 holes in total, with fairways winding through breath-taking landscapes consisting of deep bunkers, two large lakes as well as pine and cork trees. The beauty of Almenara lies in the fact that golfers can enjoy up to three different 18-hole combinations,
